January meeting to address provisions of the 2008 Farm Bill

WASHINGTON, Jan. 14, 2009 - Acting Agriculture Under Secretary for Rural Development Douglas L. Faulkner today announced that the Agency plans to hold a public meeting later this month on ways to expand rural business opportunities. "This meeting will enable members of the public, rural business owners and stakeholders to share their ideas about the best ways to meet the job needs of rural Americans," Faulkner said.

The meeting will focus on a newly created microentrepreneur assistance program and an initiative to increase business and employment opportunities for individuals with disabilities. The Rural Microentrepreneur Assistance Program will provide loans and grants to microenterprises that are unable to obtain other financial assistance.
